

NATIONAL E-SIGN DAY

FIFTEENTH

ANNIVERSARY

The Electronic Signatures in Global and National Commerce Act is a United States federal law passed by the U.S. Congress to facilitate the use of electronic records and electronic signatures in interstate and foreign commerce by ensuring the validity and legal effect of contracts entered into electronically. Although every state has at least one law pertaining to electronic signatures, it is the federal law that lays out the guidelines for interstate commerce.

LEGISLATION

JUNE 30, 2000

President Bill Clinton signed the E-SIGN Act electronically. With the passage of this bill, electronic signatures and on-line contracts gained legal acceptance.

BIRTH OF

Tom Gonser founded DocuSign in 2003. The philosophy behind DocuSign was to create a simple e-signature process that did not require a paper and pen.

NATIONAL E-SIGN DAY

JUNE 30, 2010

On the 10th Anniversary of National E-SIGN Day, two separate milestones were achieved signaling the emergence of DocuSign as the industry leader.
